DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-30 have been examined.

Drawings

2. Applicant is required to submit a proposed drawing correction in reply to this Office action. However, formal correction of the noted defect may be deferred until after the examiner has considered the proposed drawing correction. Failure to timely submit the proposed drawing correction will result in the abandonment of the application.

3. This application has been filed with informal drawings which are acceptable for examination purposes only. Formal drawings will be required when the application is allowed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-5, 11-15, and 21-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 5,963,915 to Steven T. Kirsch.

As per claims 1, 11, and 21, Kirsch clearly discloses a method, system, and computer readable medium for conducting a transaction over a network, the network including a first system and a second system, the method, system, and program instructions comprising the steps of:

- a) initiating a transaction;
- b) comparing a value of the first system with a value of the second system; and
- c) continuing the transaction based on the comparison (See Kirsch abstract, figure3 and associated text, column 3, lines 4-32, column 4, lines 48-64, and column 13, lines 15-51).

Art Unit: 3621

As per claims 2, 12, and 22, Kirsch clearly discloses all the limitations of claims 1, 11, and 21, further;

Kirsch clearly discloses,

- the first system comprises a client system and the second system comprises a server system (See Kirsch abstract, figure3 and associated text, column 3, lines 4-32, column 4, lines 48-64, and column 13, lines 15-51)..

As per claims 3, 13, and 23, Kirsch clearly discloses all the limitations of claims 2, 12, and 22, further;

Kirsch clearly discloses,

- the value of the client system is in a persistent client side data file (See Kirsch abstract, figure3 and associated text, column 3, lines 4-32, column 4, lines 48-64, and column 13, lines 15-51).

As per claims 4, 14, and 24, Kirsch clearly discloses all the limitations of claims 3, 13, and 23, further;

Kirsch clearly discloses,

- the persistent client-side data file comprises a cookie (See Kirsch abstract, figure3 and associated text, column 3, lines 4-32, column 4, lines 48-64, and column 13, lines 15-51).

As per claims 5, 15, and 25, Kirsch clearly discloses all the limitations of claims 4, 14, and 24, further;

Kirsch clearly discloses, step b) further comprises

- b1) allowing the server system to compare the value in the cookie with the value in the server system (See Kirsch abstract, figure3 and associated text, column 3, lines 4-32, column 4, lines 48-64, and column 13, lines 15-51).

Art Unit: 3621

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 6-10, 16-20, and 16-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S.

Patent No. 5,963,915 to Steven T. Kirsch as applied to claims above, and further in view of U.S. Patent

No. 5,991,399 to Gary L. Grauke et al.

As per claims 6, 16, and 26, Kirsch discloses all the limitations of claims 5, 15, and 25, further; Grauke clearly teaches,

if the value in the cookie does not match the value in the server system, step c) further comprises:

- c1) generating an encryption key;
- c2) storing a portion of the encryption key in the cookie; and
- c3) storing the entire encryption key on the server system (See Grauke bstract, figures 2, 4A and 4B and associated text, column3, lines 5-20 and 60-68, column 6, lines 17-35, column 7, lines 8-68, and column 8, lines 1-31).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine the teachings of Kirsch and Grauke to achieve a greatly increased protection and control of downloads of data files by encrypting them and tracking the download process.

As per claims 7, 17, and 27, Kirsch discloses all the limitations of claims 6, 16, and 26, further;

Grauke clearly teaches, that step c) further comprises:

- c4) allowing the server system to transfer encrypted information to the client system; and

Art Unit: 3621

- c5) allowing the server system to transfer a remaining portion of the encryption key to the client system whereby the encryption key is capable of being utilized by the client system to decrypt the encrypted information (See Grauke abstract, figures 2, 4A and 4B and associated text, column3, lines 5-20 and 60-68, column 6, lines 17-35, column 7, lines 8-68, and column 8, lines 1-31).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine the teachings of Kirsch and Grauke to achieve a greatly increased protection and control of downloads of data files by encrypting them and tracking the download process based on an specific key for that particular data file payment.

As per claims 8, 18, and 28, Kirsch discloses all the limitations of claims 7, 17, and 27, further; Grauke clearly teaches,

- step c5) is performed in response to a payment transaction from the client system to the server system (See Grauke abstract, figures 2, 4A and 4B and associated text, column3, lines 5-20 and 60-68, column 6, lines 17-35, column 7, lines 8-68, and column 8, lines 1-31).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine the teachings of Kirsch and Grauke to achieve a greatly increased protection and control of downloads of data files by encrypting them and tracking the download process based on an specific key for that particular data file payment.

As per claims 9, 19, and 29, Kirsch discloses all the limitations of claims 5, 15, and 25, further; Grauke clearly teaches, if the value in the cookie does match the value in the server system, ABC discloses that step c) further comprises:

- c1) allowing the server system to transfer encrypted information to the client system; and
- c2) allowing the server system to transfer a remaining portion of the encryption key to the client system whereby the encryption key is capable of being utilized by the client system to decrypt the encrypted information (See Grauke abstract, figures 2, 4A and 4B and associated text, column3, lines 5-20 and 60-68, column 6, lines 17-35, column 7, lines 8-68, and column 8, lines 1-31).

Art Unit: 3621

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine the teachings of Kirsch and Grauke to achieve a greatly increased protection and control of downloads of data files by encrypting them and tracking the download process based on an specific key for that particular data file payment.

As per claims 10, 20, and 30, Kirsch discloses all the limitations of claims 9, 19, and 29, further; Grauke clearly teaches,

- step c2) is performed in response to a payment transaction from the client system to the server system(See Grauke abstract, figures 2, 4A and 4B and associated text, column3, lines 5-20 and 60-68, column 6, lines 17-35, column 7, lines 8-68, and column 8, lines 1-31).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine the teachings of Kirsch and Grauke to achieve a greatly increased protection and control of downloads of data files by encrypting them and tracking the download process based on an specific key for that particular data file payment.
